

PLODS Episode 11 Scene 19
(Male auditionee - role of JAMES BUSH)

INT DAY

Front doors of Oxlow Police Station open and JAMES BUSH enters. The camera pans with him as he walks to the front desk and rings the bell for attention. SGT CLARKE finishes his conversation and walks over to the desk.

CLARKE
Can I help you Sir?

BUSH
You've got my Dad in there. Arthur Bush. I want to see him.

CLARKE
I'm sorry Sir, Mr Bush is being questioned by our officers at the moment and is therefore unable, at present, to see any visitors.

Close-up on BUSH, who looks tense at SGT CLARKE's response.

CLARKE
Might I suggest you go home and call the station later when we may well have more news?

BUSH
I said I want to see my Father

CLARKE
And I heard you Sir, though obviously you did not hear me. Do yourself a favour Mr Bush and just go home.

Pause as BUSH stands and stares at SGT CLARKE, enraged and bewildered, not knowing what to say for the best.

CLARKE
Go home!

BUSH turns to go.

BUSH
You've not heard the last of this.

BUSH walks towards the door, pushes it violently and exits. Camera pans back to SGT CLARKE, who smiles, shakes his head and walks away from the desk.
